"You're Not Alone" started in 1999 as a forum of sharing and encouragement where ministry families could share their pain with their peers in a confidential, compassionate environment.

Transcripts of these conference presentations were the genesis of the book edited by John Vawter – "19 Stories of Hope, Love and Healing." Hit By a Ton of Bricks: You're Not Alone When Your Child's on Drugs can be ordered on this site, from FamilyLife Publishers or online retailers. It is also available through many Christian bookstores and traditional retailers. (NOTE: All proceeds from books obtained through this website go to help this ministry.)

Suggested retail price is $9.95 plus applicable sales tax, shipping and handling. While we do not sell the book, we do send a copy with postage pre-paid for every $12 tax-deductible donation to You're Not Alone, Inc., a 501(c)(3) non-profit corporation. If you print and complete the form below and include it with your check, we will return a signed copy of the form with our book(s) as a receipt for your gift.
